GAMIFICATION

WE HAVE YOU COVERED....

You are in the City of Gold and “Egoli Fever” is taking its toll! Allow us to present some unchartered land for you and your gang to pioneer and stake your claim. You will need to plan, construct, strategize and make your way to your very own piece of earth – where you will need to pan the old fashioned way and hopefully reap the rewards in extracting your riches.

Each team is given equipment and resources to create their own bridge to transport their treasures. Only once the golden ball reaches the opposite side can the teams then tackle the next task. Hessian Bags of Raw materials are lined up on the one side and teams get to randomly choose which bag they think will contain the most Gold. Teams then need to transport the bags across to the Mining station where they will Sieve for the gold. A time limit will determine the end and teams then gather to weigh their goods to determine the winning team. Includes a prize giving and lots of team spirit and team achievement!
